Sponsorship proposal

Health Care in Secure Settings 2020

The Health Care in Secure Settings 2020 conference focuses on the niche fields of health care in custodial and forensic mental health settings.

This third annual conference, hosted by Justice Health and Forensic Mental Health Network, will be held on 27 and 28 May 2020. It is designed for and by health professionals working in these highly specialised environments.

Over two days, delegates will hear from a range of international speakers on key issues, innovations, reforms, future directions, and best practice care in these correctional, detention and secure mental health inpatient settings.

About the host - Justice Health and Forensic Mental Health Network

The Health Care in Secure Settings conference is hosted by Justice Health and Forensic Mental Health Network (the Network), the largest health care provider to adults and young people in contact with the forensic mental health and criminal justice systems in Australia.

Each year, the Network's staff care for more than 30,000 patients in correctional centres, courts, police cells, youth justice centres, inpatient settings, and in the community. Additionally, the Network cares for 40% of forensic patients in NSW.

The Network provides multidisciplinary health services to patients, including primary care, drug and alcohol, mental health, population health, women's and midwifery care, oral health, Aboriginal health, youth health, and a range of allied health services. The Network also plays a key role in intervention programs to divert people away from custody.
